Local Concern

- The unintentional poisoning death rate in Sarasota County for persons aged 25-34 years old, has consistently remained higher than the State's average since 2010.
- Unintentional injury remains the leading cause of death among 25-34 year olds (FL Charts, 2014)
- The highest rate of unintentional poisoning deaths in Sarasota County occurred among 25-34 year olds (FLDOH Vital Statistics, 2015)
 - The majority of unintentional poisonings for this age group are related to prescription drugs abuse and misuse.

Intended Audience

Anyone who prescribes, dispenses, or stores controlled substances is encouraged to attend this educational opportunity. This educational platform will present a framework for safely prescribing opioids. A national leader in the field, together with local experts, will highlight important tools for protecting your practice, your patients, and your community.

Training Sessions

To maximize the opportunity of educating many medical community members, this session will be offered at multiple times in various locations within the county. Please plan to attend an event that works with your schedule. There is no cost and two CME or CE credits will be provided.

Healthcare Partnership

Drug Free Sarasota, Sarasota County's State-funded substance abuse coalition has partnered with local healthcare leaders who are working together to address prescription drug misuse and abuse on a countywide level community.
